Taiwan Normal University's Online Continuing Education Master's Program of Teaching Chinese as a Foreign Language

Taiwan Normal University is now actively accepting applications for the 2025“Online Continuing Education Master's Program in Teaching Chinese as a Foreign Language” and warmly welcomes all aspiring candidates to apply!

About the program:

To accommodate global digital learning trends and address the shortage of advanced-level overseas Mandarin teachers, NTNU created the first “Online Continuing Education Master's Program in Teaching Chinese as a Foreign Language” in 2016. This program integrates NTNU's professional faculty resources, providing an avenue for professional advanced studies for overseas Mandarin educators or professionals who wish to strengthen their teaching abilities.

The program also aims to cultivate advanced-level overseas Mandarin teachers to meet the global demand for professional Mandarin teachers, as well as to integrate high-level talent and digital technology for the management of Mandarin language education applications.
